Fear Four-Year-Old Child Is Dead If She Was Lost In Woods

(International News Service)

BRADFORD, Pa., May 12.—An army of 1,000 men directed by 100 state police rode back through the dense woods here in a precise, mathematical search for missing four-year-old Marjory West.

The searchers for the little girl who disappeared Sunday while picking flowers followed a plan carefully laid out by Major Hugh J. Ryan of Bradford, Capt. Carl L. Peterson of the national guard, Lieut. Peter W. Hazen of the CCG, Sheriff M. L. Dickson of McKean county and John Henry Quill, Bradford city engineer.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Backed by a top-heavy Democratic majority united on the issue of renewed pump priming, administration leaders slated the $3,054,425,000 omnibus recovery bill for passage in the house today with overwhelming approval.

Rep. Woodrum (D) of Virginia, ranking appropriations committee member in charge of the legislation, confidently predicted a three-to-one vote for the measure on final passage. He estimated that not more than a hundred votes, most of them Republican, would be cast against it. What appeared to be the only

Mother, Daughter Are Found Dead Under R.R. Trestle

Search For Mrs. Charlotte McDevitt, 26, Reveals Tragedy Near Rose Point

DISCOVERY MADE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Two Victims Found In Slippery Rock Creek Under 100-Foot High R. R. Trestle

Believed to have been temporarily deranged, Mrs. Charlotte May McDevitt, aged 26 years, wife of James P. McDevitt, of the Frew Mill road, is thought to have clasped her six-year-old daughter, Phyllis Pearl, in her arms and leaped from the Western Allegheny railroad trestle over Slippery Rock creek, a half mile north of Rose Point, into the bed of the stream below, a distance of around 100 feet, Wednesday evening.

Both instantly killed.

Both are believed to have been instantly killed, the body of Mrs. McDevitt being terribly crushed. The child, however, seemed to have been protected by the body of the mother and her body was not mangled. It is believed the tragedy occurred about 7 p. m. Both were dead when found, submerged in water about 18 inches deep, shortly before 9 o'clock last evening.

For six months Mrs. McDevitt, it is reported, had been in poor health and someone was with her constantly. It was thought that the country might be better for her and on last Tuesday the family moved from 609 1/2 Court street to the Frew Mill road.

Yesterday she asked a neighbor, Mrs. Hogue, owner of the house the McDevitt family rented, to bring her to town, presumably to cash a pay check. Mrs. Hogue is believed to be the last person to see her alive.

When Mrs. McDevitt returned from her work on the WPA she had not returned, and it was feared that something might have happened to her, a search was instituted. She was

Brazil Has New Outbreak Today

By A. M. GALVAO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 12.—Hard on the heels of the Green Shirt uprising which was scotched largely through the personal courage of President Getulio Vargas and his family, Brazilian Rebels staged a new revolutionary attempt aboard the cruiser Bahia today.

At 1 o'clock this morning, a group of insurgents boarded the vessel while it was tied up at a pier in Rio de Janeiro harbor. Most of the officers were ashore at the time.

The crew, remaining loyal to President Vargas, clashed with the Rebels and subdued them, disarming them from the warship and handing them over to police authorities.

The new outbreak was officially described by the Rebels as an attempt to gain "adhesion" of the Bahia's crew to a revolutionary movement. Authorities said the clash which occurred was a "slight" one and casualties were believed to be few.

Port Of Amoy Taken By Japs

Last Remaining Chinese Defenders Are Forced To Surrender

AMERICANS ARE REPORTED SAFE

By WILLIAM G. SHAW
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HONG KONG, May 12.—Japanese forces were in full possession of the important Chinese treaty port of Amoy today after a bitter encounter which ended when the last remaining Chinese defenders were forced to surrender.

An official Japanese announcement stated the entire Amoy Island now is held by the Nipponese. Occupation of the island was covered by Japanese warplanes, which earlier had dropped tons of bombs on the port in preparation for the assault.

Unleash Attacks

After consolidating their newly won position, the invaders unleashed vigorous onslaughts against Chinese military defenses on the mainland facing the island. Caravans and motor trucks were shelled and bombed in an effort to prevent any further supplies reaching the interior of China along roads leading from the captured city.

Chinese forces which did not surrender retreated to the mainland, where they were believed attempting a new stand. Meanwhile, all foreigners, including some 38 Americans, at Amoy were reported safe.

Capture Villages

Hankow, May 12.—A strong Japanese pincer movement towards the Lunzai railroad in South Shantung today resulted in the capture of several more villages.

Chinese military authorities admitted that great concern is felt over the continued Japanese progress.

In West Shansi, however, the Chinese claimed the capture of Pukien, where the Japanese were forced to retreat.

Rail Wage Cut Notice Is Given

Railroads Announce Intention Of Carrying Out Wage Cut On July 1

BROTHERHOOD HEAD SAYS MOVE FATAL STEP

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The nation's railroads today formally notified millions of workers that on July 1 they will carry out their heretofore-expressed intention of slashing pay rates 15 per cent in an economy move.

The notification came in the form of a statement by the carriers joint conference committee, issued in Chicago and handed to reporters in the press room of the interstate commerce commission here.

The statement was addressed to chairmen of the various railroads' employees organizations.

"This action," the statement said, "is compelled by conditions now confronting the railroad industry. We wish the public and railroad employees to know what these conditions are, because both the national welfare and the welfare of railroad men are necessarily dependent upon the welfare of the basic transportation industry of the country."

Breached Fatal Step

Cleveland, May 12.—Decision of the railroads to reduce wages 15 per cent on July 1 was branded today as a "fatal step" by A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, largest of the railway labor groups.

Whitney said he had not as yet received formal notification of the railroads' action, but assumed it would be received later today. He said he would issue a formal statement at that time, then added:

"That's a fatal step on the part of the railroads, because there will be no wage reduction. This move on their part will influence a further downward spiral of business that will injure the railroads as well as other lines of business."

Tent Caterpillars Start Encroaching On Local District

Eastern Section Of County Invaded By Destructive Pest, Reports State

Tent caterpillars, those destructive pests which build a web in a tree for their young and which virtually denude a tree of vegetation in a short time, are beginning to make their appearance in large numbers in the eastern section of the county, reports state.

According to Extension Representative Harold R. McCulloch, of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association, no provision has been made by the state to combat the pest. Last year the problem of ridding some communities in the state was adopted as a WPA project.

The use of arsenical spray is the best method of killing off the pest, he stated, but cutting off the web and burning it is also recommended. Some people burn the web, but this merely throws the worms to the ground and they climb back up into the tree and continue their devastating work.

When the infestation is severe, entire trees are destroyed when the worms eat off the vegetation.

Weather Records Are Shattered In Pittsburgh Area

Record Cold For 67 Years On May 12 Is Reported This Morning

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 12.—Record-breaking cold and heavy frost smote the Pittsburgh district today.

A 67-year low temperature mark for May 12 was shattered when the mercury fell to 33 at the airport, four degrees below the previous minimum for this date in 1913.

At Weatherman W. S. Brozman's home in Brookside Farms the thermometer slumped to 27.

"While several days will be required to tell what damage the frost has done I can believe it will be tremendous," he said.

Fruit trees and flowers alike probably suffered heavily, the forecasters said. Reports to the weather bureau were that heavy frost was general throughout Western Pennsylvania.

Fair and continued cold with warming up tomorrow, was predicted for today.

Heavy Frost Is Noted This Morning

Extent Of Damage By Freezing Blast During Night Not Yet Determined

Temperatures slightly below the freezing mark were noted here this morning, they were accompanied by a fairly heavy frost. The extent of damage to vegetation may not have been so great, however, as the sky clouded up early this morning, and the weather continued cold. It will take several days, however, to determine just what damage was done.

Tender plants, such as tomatoes and peppers might have been hurt by the cold, but more hardy plants seem not to have suffered.

SEARCH IN WOODS FOR MISSING GIRL EXTENDED TODAY

want them to bring their own lunches and be prepared to follow orders.

Meanwhile, as all clues to the child's whereabouts faded, the American Legion post 108 here posted a $200 reward for information leading to Marjory's discovery, dead or alive.

The searchers were directed to proceed for 10 miles down the Chapel Fork valley, already the scene of a thorough search by hundreds of men, CCC boys, national guardsmen and other volunteer searchers. Bloodhounds have also been used but to no avail.

Search Since Sunday.

Search for the girl has been carried on since Sunday when she disappeared while her older sister left her for a few minutes. Their mother was sitting in a car in the woods nearby while their father fished in a stream a short distance from the road.

A theory the girl may have been seen in Thomas, W. Va., with a man who stopped overnight at the hotel was discarded by Chief of Police Edward Edmonds, he reported. He said he believed the man was satisfactorily identified as a father lacking in stepfather for a trip.

Edmonds said it may be months before a "verging angle" develops in the case and said the girl if seen is still in the woods must be dead by now from exposure to the elements.

Fear Girl Kidnaped.

The mother, Mrs. Shirley West, expressed fear Marjory had been kidnaped and broadcast an appeal that she be turned over to the nearest American Legion post anywhere in the country "and no questions will be asked."

Bloodhounds merely carried the searchers up to fishing and hunting cabins in the big level mountain section and then each time returned to the spot where Marjory disappeared. All the cabins were empty and none had recently been occupied, according to the searchers.

The latest search was made yesterday with the men about four feet apart over an area of 20 miles square. The line of searchers was a mile long. The men chug to fast fading hopes the child was still alive.

Search "Bear's Den."

One of the areas to be searched today is known as the "bear's den," an area infested with snakes and bear dens.

Police searched under all bridges in this section and examined all culverts in the possibility that the girl had been struck by a hit-and-run driver who discarded her body. This theory was likewise abandoned when all places examined failed to yield any trace of her.

Hundreds of sightseers who flocked to the region were barred by police because they were hindering the search. Their presence also impeded efforts of the bloodhounds.

Officials of the local American Legion post estimated it had spent about $500 for food for the searchers. About the same amount was contributed by other individuals, it was estimated.

Scavenging field workers predominated among the searchers, which also included business and professional men.

Bloodhounds brought here from New York by New York state police were returned home today, beaten for the first time in a hunt for a human.

Searchers today were singled out in groups of 25 men who were then assigned to 250-foot sections laid out by surveying parties. All groups were required to cover 10 miles through the heavy underbrush. The advance was sounded by bugler and the searchers plunged into the woods.

HAILE SELASSIE MAKES FINAL PLEA FOR HIS COUNTRY

in the Ethiopian question pitted against the Ethiopian plea for a condemnation of aggression, the council session today developed into the most dramatic held in Geneva since the economic sanctions were voted against Rome during the Italo-Ethiopian war.

All eyes were on the Negus during his few brief remarks and later while he sat impassive and listened to his spokesman plead his cause against the "practical peace" sought by Britain.

The British delegates remained outwardly unmoved, seemingly unperturbed by efforts to upset their plan to permit recognition of Premier Mussolini's dominance in Abyssinia and thus remove the "Ethiopian obstacle" to consummation of the Anglo-Italian friendship pact.

No special Italian correspondents were present for this meeting of the council, but seated in the press gallery were six or seven prominent Geneva correspondents of Italian nationality, representing newspapers and news agencies.

This recalled Mussolini's action some time ago in forbidding special Italian correspondents to attend League sessions following a series of disorders that marked Selassie's previous appearance before the League.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

DIVORCE AND CHILDREN

"My Dear Dr. Myers: I am writing to ask whether you can direct me to any books or articles for help in solving the problem of the child in divorce and subsequent marriage. The relatives in this special case seem very friendly, and the problem seems that of two mothers rather than two fathers in relation to the child. The paternal grandparents who had the three-year-old before the mother's second marriage, naturally feel a deep love for and claim upon this child; but do not always act for her deepest good. Habits of eating and general physical food are not considered important. The child now lives with the mother, is devoted to the stepfather, but it is difficult for them to keep her long enough to get her settled into a new set of habits."

In my reply I told her that my book, "The Modern Family," contains a great deal about children of divorced parents who remarry; also that many of the problems she named were discussed in my book, "The Modern Parent." Moreover, I enclosed a list of 15 of my pamphlets which might help, naming, furthermore, such books as "Everyday Problems of the Everyday Child," by Thom; "Happy Childhood," by Anderson; "Child Care and Training," by Fagrie and Anderson.

Child-Tragedy and Divorce. One needs to dwell upon the tragedies of children of divorced parents—their heartstrings torn between the parents before separation, the humiliations and agonies to those children old enough to understand, during the court procedure, the teasing to and fro of the innocent defenseless child between the separated parents, each of whom tend to play for the child's sole affection and to engender hate in him for the other parent. Then the hazard this child may have in face with relatives who may not be able to bring him up well. Consider, too, the heartaches of the relative who by and by may have to give up this child to the step-parent.

I often think of the thousands of grandparents with children dumped into their laps by one of the divorces. Then we must wonder how many of these divorces occurred because the divorcee had been a spoiled and pampered child—running home to mother on the slightest provocation, even an imagined one. Parents contemplating divorce ought first to think of their children. Such consideration would prove a motive as hard to make for happy marital adjustments.

And what outlook for a happy married life have the children of divorced parents? Their chances appear not to be so favorable. All else equal, you would prefer that your son or daughter did not marry into a divorced family. Often the penalty from divorce, it seems, is not only visited upon the children, but also on their children's children, on and on. There are some family epidemics of divorce, you know.

KEEPING STILL TILL ELEVEN O'CLOCK

I USED to hear about a family that had a silence rule until 11 o'clock every morning. Nobody in that family was supposed to talk to any other member of it until that hour in the day.

It seems that they were all grouches until then. Never a morning came in that family that father and mother and son and daughter did not get out on the wrong side of the bed. . . . They were just naturally that way. Gloomy. Grouchy. . . . They had their coffee and walked around the block and shaken their irritation down into the soles of their boots.

They'd tried being pleasant to each other and it hadn't worked. It annoyed them more to try to be cheerful at that hour of the morning than it did to let nature take its course. They knew they were grouches and they didn't see why they should change. So they adopted a policy of armed defense. . . .

No determined bouncing out of bed with a cheery morning greeting in that house. No such gay hyponosis for them. No, sir! After about they'd let each other severely alone and let each member of that family who spoke to any other member of it before 11 o'clock—except to yell fire or announce a telephone call—would get a snarl for his infringement on the family's privacy.

I understand that the system WORKED. I confess I don't know whether it still is working but it did work for some years.

And I've thought of proposing the same rule in a family I know something about. Neither is this family particularly cheerful or friendly in the awful morning hours, but the rule I fear, would not work in that family because it isn't consistently UN-cheerful. There's a small boy who's almost always shouting, yelling, silly little idiot in the morning and his father occasionally gets out of bed into a deliriously brand-new world. So do the others. . . . And how are you going to impose an ironbound rule on an inconsistent family like that?

No, I guess it wouldn't work. It may have worked in that family I mentioned, but it couldn't possibly work for any family with Irish in its blood. They'll get up some morning so mad at any rule that imposed silence until 11 o'clock that they'd break over the traces in violent resentment and kick everything to bits. . . . So I hardly think I'll suggest it for the family I have in mind.

Besides, I couldn't keep still till 11 in the morning.

The Fascists in Mexico still rate as amateurs. Their pay is slipped to them when nobody is looking.

A politician's recent speech was referred to in an editorial as just a "mini balloon." Of course, wasn't it inflated with a great deal of hot air.

HINTS and DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:06. Sun rises tomorrow 4:47.

Another thing wrong in this country is that some people don't pay any kind of taxes and are allowed to vote and get many other favors that taxpayers have to pay for. Having the privilege to live in this country is worth at least a small part in helping to keep the country going.

Another hopeful aspect of the pickup in building is that it may absorb the musical saws we hear over the radio.

Our idea of a heartbreaking job is breaking stone with a sledge. The sledge handle is too short to lean on.

Hitler left Italy in a special train and Mussolini followed him in another special train. They are getting American ideas where officials go fishing in big warships surrounded by smaller ships and having special trains meet them at the docks. To say nothing of the fleets of airplanes that fly between the boats and the shore.

People on your side are distinguished by what they stand for; people on the other side by what they fall for.

Spending more billions is good politics. It will cause another little boom, and the penalty it invites won't come till after election.

If the government really wishes to save quail and other ground birds, let it offer a four-bills bounty for night-prowling cats.

Some people have suspicious natures. Others have never been gyped.

If the C. C. C. camp is removed from the Pymatung dam, the boys will have to leave some mighty fine fishing waters. The dam was never built for fishers anyhow.

Of course government spending will make times good. Anybody who can borrow can have good times while the money lasts.

The rich man isn't so selfish. The beauty of his grounds is free to all who pass by and he can't see it from inside the house.

But the law never calls it "unavoidable" if you are trying to get ahead too fast and take somebody's property instead of his life.

You can guess what a Gallup or Fortune survey will reveal. If an idea is sensible, 68 per cent of the people are for it.

The Whitney episode teaches us that even a rich man will go to prison if he steals money instead of merely killing somebody.

"Has your hubby some on clothes?" Said the beggar to the frau; "Yes, he has," she did disclose "And he has them on him now."

The modern world certainly holds many dangers for the pretty girl. She is liable to become a movie or stage star, advertising model or the wife of a handsome young millionaire.

The natural-born farmer doesn't yearn for wealth. Like the artist, he finds his chief compensation in the joy of creating something.

Some candidates dread the straw vote poles. They are afraid that they will be made to look like scarecrows.

A politician's recent speech was referred to in an editorial as just a "mini balloon." Of course, wasn't it inflated with a great deal of hot air.

The way voters act these days one would think poverty and hunger were political allies.

Joe—I hear that Spillman has gone to Alaska to settle.

Joe—No, the word of the matter is that he has gone there to keep from settling.

The little man has no chance. Look at DiMaggio; forced to work for a mere $25,000 a year or go hungry.

When a man in a private business makes a promise he is about ruined if he don't keep it. In politics many promises are made and never kept, but seem to help the birds along who make them. Honest men keep their promises every time.

Correct This Sentence: "He talked plain, practical common sense," said the reporter, "and the crowd cheered wildly."

Everything went well with the spelling bee until the teacher pronounced the word "prosperity." The children never had heard of that.

The Bituminous Coal Commission has about solved the problem of jobless miners—if everybody on its payroll is a miner.

Evidently the Nazis have about quit "saving" people in Austria. The undertakers are catching up.

There are too many people who don't give a hoot for anything—or you know what.

The old law of supply and demand is still in effect. When voters demand dough, scared politicians supply it.

Prize Winning Play Discussed
Is Held Tonic For Depression
Work Is Needed Most In Country

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

"OUR TOWN" is the play that won the Pulitzer prize this season. It is by Thornton Wilder, who wrote in 1928 "The Bridge of San Luis Rey."

If one cannot get to New York to see this play, the play in book form can be bought now.

Here we have America as it was in the 1893-1913 period—but life as it always is. There is something fundamental in every speech in this play—which is performed without scenery, and with a commentator (called as "Stage Manager") as the chief character.

Life not only is carried through from the cradle to the grave, but beyond the grave. Death is kinder, contains more hope, than life—in this play.

It is tonic for a depression.

WORK! But what can be the cure for the depression? What will bring the most joy to men? Work!

And not relief work. One hears a thousand tales of woe. One wonders what can be done. One suffers intensely if he is a sensitive person upon seeing the suffering of others.

In the meantime, there is a shortage of relief funds, or manipulation of funds by local or state politicians. The sufferers do not know from day to day of work to week whether they will have enough to eat, or shelter, or fuel.

That is a horror of which no one can make light.

STARTING THE WHEELS People with some money heard it fearful for themselves. Nineteenth of America must be fearful for itself.

Yet if that fear becomes too extensive every wheel will stop. Everything in a country like the United States must be fearful.

Several Hundred Attend Session At Epworth M. E.

Mrs. I. M. Henley Re-elected President At W. H. M. S. Convention Wednesday

Over 200 women registered at the Epworth M. E. church of New Castle, Wednesday for the 53th annual convention of the Woman's Home Missionary society of Erie conference. A number of other Erie conference officers also attended the convention.

Miss Isabel Critchfield, associate director of girls' work for Marcy Center, Chicago, a Christian social service center in the heart of one of the largest metropolitan areas in the world, was the principal speaker of the convention. She told of the work at the center, its physical, social, educational and religious aspects.

Mrs. C. H. Andrews of New Castle, the official hostess of the day, performed her duties in a most gracious manner. A lovely vocal number was given by Mrs. David McCrory of this city.

The next convention will be in May, 1939, at the Methodist Episcopal church of Merrifield.

THIS corn revolt is not the first. It is the second. The first revolt came some weeks ago, from the cotton farmers of the South, and the protest was so powerful that the Administration hurriedly passed amendments which gave the cotton farmers in sixteen States an additional 2,000,000 acres for cotton production in 1938—without, however, satisfying them. In the end, the recently made corn allotments will have to be changed. Already the sentiment is such that it is clear the AAA cannot stand pat on these without creating an uncontrollable rebellion. On the other hand, when it gives in, as it must, all pretense of scientific administration disappears and its calculations on corn, as on cotton, will have to be thrown out the window.

THAT there will be a similar experience with the wheat allotments can hardly be doubted. The new law has started to go to pieces before it is six months old. Despite complete power, it is being found impossible to control production along "scientifically planned" lines. Governmental regimentation of the farmer by the bureaucrats did not work under the first AAA; it will not work under the second. Ballyhoo and propaganda, combined with increased subsidies, may conceal the facts for a considerable time, but in the end, whether sustained by the court or not, this scheme will disintegrate like the NRA and the first AAA, because of its inherent unsoundness and the congenial reluctance of the American farmer to lose his freedom. But in the meantime there is no way to estimate the cost to the country.

States depends upon the middle class of people.

Persons with more than $10,000 must take a chance in the purchase of necessities, in replacements, in normal living. If this alone, were instigated, work could be provided for millions.

It is not the fear of the capitalist that stops wheels, but fear of the middle class. And the middle class fears it will be pushed down into the relief category if it spends a penny more than for bare necessities.

It desires security, as far as possible. Security to the wage earner and the salaried man requires social and economic reforms which larger interests have fought. Yet, without these reforms, fear will remain, and wheels will not turn.

Interview people, as this writer has, and you will find this to be the sum and substance of the problem.

LA FOLLETTE
The La Follette third party movement seems to have begun at a slower pace than had been expected. Democrats are less alarmed. Republicans, however, may be more alarmed. Most of the interest shown, outside of Wisconsin, has been in Republican states.

Interest will be high in Republican as well as New Deal primary tests. Progressive Republicans may win one or two contests.

DIFFICULT TO BEND OVER AND LACE SHOES
Caught Colds Easily—Muscles and Joints Stiff and Sore

Says World's Tonic A Blessing

When the intestines fail to function properly poisonous waste matters gather and works its way out in an unnatural manner. This weakens one's resistance and leaves one easy prey to common colds, fevers and pains of many sorts.

Read how Mr. V. H. Bott of 2020 Stanton Ave., Arnold, Pa., tells of building resistance to stop being AN EASY COMMON COLD CATCHER:

"For a long time I was easy prey for colds which I caught at the slightest provocation. They would attack in different places sometimes my kidneys would suffer, then again my entire back would ache and pain. It was agony to bend over and put on my shoes. At these times I'd suffer a rush of blood to the head, dizziness and spots before my eyes would leave me bewildered and helpless. Often, at the slightest irritation, I'd be seized with fits of sneezing, my eyes would become all watery and bleary and I felt like a worn out old man. I was way underweight and had a very poor memory. Had to get up often during the night and felt so cranky all the time that I was not fit to live with. I was forever badly constipated and never seemed to get rid of the taste of food in my mouth. I started taking WORLD'S TONIC chiefly for my constipated condition and want to say right here that the immediate relief I enjoyed was really a blessing. But that wasn't all. I was amazed as one by one all the other aches that go hand in hand with constipation fell away. Aches and pains, stiff and cracking joints and limbs, dizziness and that old man feeling kept on their way and left me rejoicing. Taking care of constipation has certainly increased my resistance and I don't catch cold so easily now. The bad taste has left my mouth and I can put on my shoes without those exhausting spells, and it is no longer necessary to get up at night so much. WORLD'S TONIC certainly straightened me out in great shape."

WORLD'S TONIC is an aid to the intestinal tract and acts as a mild diuretic to the kidneys.

WORLD'S TONIC is for sale at Eckerd's, Paisley's, and all other modern Drug Stores.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press, Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Judging from their recent utterances, there seems to be a certain sort of personal sympathy in economic reasoning between ex-President Hoover and the Wisconsin L. La Follette brothers.

This is remarkable. Not long ago one surely would have placed the Californian among ultra-conservatives, the La Follettes as liberals to the point of near-radicalism.

Yet some of the ex-president's expressions in the course of his late Republican grand rally address at Oklahoma City jibed very well with those in Governor "Young Phil" La Follette's speech in launching the newly-stimulated Progressive movement, and with various things that Senator "Young Bob" has been saying for quite a while.

HOOPER AGREES
Notably "Young Phil" put himself on record in opposition to restrictions upon production.

He declared also against public "spoon feeding."

Former President Hoover agrees with him as to both items.

"Young Bob," depicting persisting governmental deficits, has clamored for a broader taxation base to atone for them.

The former president views the piling up of the federal debt with much alarm as does "Young Phil." He doesn't argue so much for higher taxes, but he strenuously urges governmental economy.

BOB ALSO OFF
The former White House tenant does not particularly attack Rooseveltian objectives, but he does emphatically and adversely criticize Rooseveltian methods of attempting to arrive at them.

"Young Phil" has been so loyal a New Dealer that when "Young Phil" took the anti-New Deal war-path, politicians wondered whether there had not been a break between the brothers. It now is apparent that "Young Bob" also is "off the reservation."

QUEER TRIO
The former president warns that New Dealism is undermining democracy.

"Young Phil" approximately indorses this conclusion.

"Young Phil" does not indorse it quite so unequivocally—not yet. Still, he seems to be on the way to doing so.

I do not contend that the La Follette and Hoover are right versus Roosevelt. I contend only that they are a queer trio to be evidently gravitating into the same camp.

An alliance between a couple of lions and a lamb would have nothing on such a trio-up.

STEWART'S VIEW
Is Hoover turning liberal?

Or are the La Follettes turning conservative?

It is hard to say.

Personally, throughout his White House term, I always considered Hoover a reactionary. I'm not so sure now.

He had a depression which he couldn't help. It was an inevitable "World War" aftereffect. Maybe he didn't fight it as effectively as he might. Maybe he did. It was due, anyway. He talks at present like a good, enlightened Democrat.

I discount the La Follette's trifling. They're a bit like politicians, but they're in at the psychological moment.

Themes on the problems of the day, vital issues of the times including the responsibilities and privileges of the church, will be presented in addresses by distinguished speakers.

On the convention platform will be many nationally known figures, including the Rev. Peter Shih, the Rev. Edwin C. Lewis, D. D., Sergeant Alvin C. York, Dr. Louis A. Warren and Edgar T. Welch. Special music will be provided by the Pioneer Male Quartet of Pittsburgh.

Two more election board appointments were made by Judge W. W. Brahm on Wednesday. Marie S. Biddie was appointed inspector in the first precinct of Mahoning township vice Jone Mayberry who moved.

In the second precinct of Pulaski township, Bernice Kuhn was appointed judge of elections vice Hugh E. Glickerson, resigned.

Scott township residents are reported aroused over a five mill road levy which was made for 1938 by the township supervisors. The argument of those protesting the levy is that the levy was unnecessary in view of the fact that the supervisors did not collect $500 of a previous levy. No levy was made last year, and the taxpayers claim it isn't necessary this year.

The county commissioners are unable to get a delinquent tax collector for the township, two having resigned and in the meantime some effort is to be made to have the five mill tax levy stricken off.

Two opinions were handed down by Judge Thomas W. Dickey on Wednesday. The first one concerns an appeal by W. C. Houck and Horace Houck, executors of the will of the late William C. Houck. They appealed in the case of J. M. Frishkorn against John and Stella Kennedy, a case in which Frishkorn had levied on a property they owned. The executors claimed the property was a part of the estate and was to be converted into cash. The court dismissed the appeal without prejudice for a case in equity.

An order was handed down awarding custody of little Charles Michael Dudaush to his father Mike Dudaush, 35, with the provision that the mother to visit the youngster at reasonable intervals.

Ballots and election supplies are being bunched up this week to be sent to the election boards of the county. In a day or two a truck will be sent out with the supplies for delivery to the proper officials.

THE ORIGINAL PETTICOATS
Petticoats were originally what they are today—little coats worn both by men and women for warmth of the upper part of the body. But fashion, which is apt to turn everything topsy-turvy, soon transformed them into exclusively feminine garb.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE
Caused by Tired Kidneys
Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backache people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acid and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 8 pounds of waste. If the 16 miles of kidney tubes don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start making backache, rheumatic pains, loss of pep, and under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Pills, used successfully by millions for decades past, they give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Rev. J. R. Graham May Return For Summer Services

Large Crowds Hear Missionary At Calvary Church On East Side

Rev. James R. Graham, Jr., for 16 years a missionary in China under the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., South, and recently appointed a member of the Independent Board for Presbyterian Foreign Missions, who was heard by crowds at the Calvary Presbyterian church, unaffiliated, on the East Side, early this week, may return here sometime during the summer, Pastor Frederick states.

Rev. Graham spoke Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights to capacity crowds. His subjects were as follows in the order given: "The Signs of the Times," "The Meaning of the Cross of Christ," and "The Rapture of the Church and the Great Tribulation." During these sermons Mr. Graham dealt terrific blows to "modernism and apostasy in the leading denominations."

He played the piano and sang numbers both in English and Chinese to the great delight of his captivated audiences. His command of the Mandarin dialect is such that he is recognized as one of the most outstanding interpreters for Christian leaders who visit China.

Those who heard him this week anticipate with pleasure his return to the Calvary pavilion during the summer conference which opens on June 5.

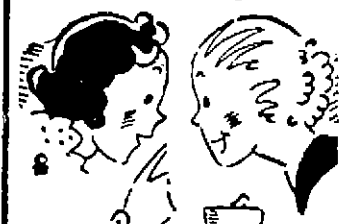

Plan To Abandon North Hill Dump

Council was informed today by Public Safety Director J. Myron Rice that the Park avenue dump between North Jefferson and North Mercer streets would soon be abandoned. He said that as soon as possible rubbish now there would be covered with dirt. His information followed a complaint registered by residents in a petition which said the city was dumping tin cans and other materials there, that the dump was unsightly, insanitary and something should be done to alleviate the condition.

Camera Club Has Meeting

An introductory lecture to photography, illustrated by slides, was the feature of the meeting of the New Castle Camera club when they gathered Wednesday evening in their Croton avenue headquarters for the regular bi-monthly session. The lecture emphasized the need of an eye for a picture, rather than a great deal of technical knowledge. Examples were shown of the individuality of a photograph, depending upon the man behind the camera. It was explained that expensive equipment is not vital, neither is photographic theory necessary, but the ingenuity of the photographer is the important factor.

After a few matters of routine business had been settled, the club visited and inspected the salon exhibit in a body.

Lawrence County Is Given Fine Boost To State Tourist Guests

"You have been rioting through our great state now for several days and certainly you've seen many wonderful, many interesting things—but I must tell you here that whatever Pennsylvania has, Lawrence county has it in greater abundance."

Thus did Louis B. Round, one of the city's most prominent civic leaders, greet the state's first state tourists before 30 distinguished "state tourists" who passed in New Castle long enough Wednesday to enjoy luncheon with members of the Kiwanis club at The Castleton.

Mr. Round, chosen to voice the county's welcome to the motor club heads, editors and others who came from 25 states, reminded them, too, that they were dining "in the center of America's largest consuming area."

District Is Boosted. Before departing in special buses for Sharon, the Pymatuning dam and Erie, the visitors heard related the historic past of the New Castle area, heard of the present advantages of the city as an industrial center and particularly as "the place to stop when you're driving across the country."

When Mr. Round declared that Lawrence county has "in greater abundance whatever Pennsylvania has," the crowd applauded vigorously.

When he said that Lawrence county raises apples served on trains going through the state of Oregon, a famed apple state, the crowd's response roared through the hotel.

Mr. Round had been introduced by Vice President David H. Treloar, Jr., of Kewanee, presiding in the absence of Orville Potter, who was called to Franklin.

Treloar first presented Mayor Charles E. McGrath, who, in a short but impressive welcome speech, told the guests "we're glad to have you."

Highway Deaths Show Decrease

HARRISBURG, May 12.—A 37.9 per cent decrease in the number of highway deaths was announced today by Gov. George H. Earle. A decrease of 4.9 per cent in the total number of accidents was also reported.

For the first four months of the year, according to the governor, 475 persons were killed, or 281 less than the corresponding period last year. Ninety-seven persons were killed last month, as compared to 110 in March, 122 in February, and 140 in January.

World's Only Acrobatic Elephants

Pounding, ponderous pachyderms will demonstrate their skill at acrobatics in the Barnett Brothers big three-ring circus and Trained Animal Show, starring William Desmond, scheduled to appear at New Castle for a one day only engagement on Friday, May 13.

Challenging comparison with their feats of acrobatic skill the Barnett elephants have attained new prominence under the expert guidance of Capt. Thomas Burns. One of the acts never before attempted by any elephant is accomplished by "Della," youngest member of the herds. "Della" with her front feet on pedestals executes a perfect hand stand. Like "Della" each member of the herds has mastered some specific art of acrobatics.

Elephants are the most popular of all animal performers. Even in the huge menagerie which the Barnett Brothers carry this year they have proven the greatest attraction.

In addition to the elephants, lions, camels, monkeys and regular animals of the menagerie, there are several unusual specimens from the Frank Buck collection.

Two-Year Old Is Unusually Bright

Little Kathleen Lenore Patterson, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Patterson, 213 East Lincoln avenue, has amazed teachers at both the Senior high and Highland avenue schools with her outstanding intelligence. Kathleen, who is exactly two years and four months old, can go on for several hours reciting poems, verses, singing songs, and many other things uncommon for a child of her age.

Every letter in the alphabet is familiar to Miss Patterson, and she will tell a person, on sight, just what letter that is. She has a book of Bible verses, each represented by a letter from the alphabet. The little lady can run through this book from beginning to end and recite, perfectly, in her tiny voice, all of the verses. Nursery rhymes are her favorites. Miss Patterson has an attractive picture book filled with rhymes. She and her mother sit for hours and go through this book, with daughter telling her mother all about Mother Goose, Little Jack Horner, The Old Lady in the Shoe, and many other child favorites.

According to Mrs. Patterson, her daughter now knows 30 or more nursery rhymes and is able to recite them perfectly. Her method of learning is simple, after hearing a song, rhyme, or what have you, two or three times, Kathleen is able to repeat it exactly as heard.

For The News man who was a guest of Miss Kathleen, she sang several songs, among them were: "Show Me the Way to Go Home," "Gul of My Dreams," "Angel of the Lord," "Farmer in the Dell," and the popular "Yarkee Doodle."

Just as soon as she was able to talk, Kathleen began to pick up knowledge which almost astounded adults. She is able to name all of the common colors as they are pointed out to her.

Difficult words are no stumbling block for Miss Kathleen. Any word or phrase given to her for repeating comes back just exactly as originally spoken. She greets visitors cordially and with a friendly handshake and when they leave her home she never fails to bid them a speedy return.

The little lady is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Valensi, of 215 East Lincoln avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Patterson, Chestnut street.

Kathleen never fears being lost, for if a person asks her name she replies with the full name. Her address is given as 213 Lincoln avenue, New Castle, Pa. Many school teachers have called to visit the Pattersons to see Kathleen, and have remarked about the outstanding intelligence of the young lady. She has also visited the schools as a guest of one of the teachers.

AROUND CITY HALL

Judging from the number of thoroughfares scraped preparatory to cleaning the city streets department has been quite active during the past several weeks. In addition to scraping streets employees have gone along with the recreation movement and have improved mushball and baseball fields. The sewer bureau employees have practically completed the job of repairing a break and building a deep man-hole in North Mercer street. Employees of this bureau are now working on a break in a sanitary sewer in Green street.

Work of constructing an ornamental wall around the public square is proceeding. The wall will serve a double purpose that of keeping some of the fumes from auto gasoline exhaust pipes from injuring the flowers and also preventing pedestrians from walking on the grass and flower plots.

Although the city police are not saying much about the campaign against dogs the crusade is in effect and each day employees of the department of garbage collect the dead bodies of canines which owners do not believe worth tying up.

GARDNER

Miss Mary Badger, of the old Pittsburgh road, is still in the Jameson Memorial hospital and is somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wade, of the Butler road visited their mother, Mrs. Carrie Wade, at North Washington, for a few days.

New Castle City Baseball Schedule Announced Today

League Season Will Open Sunday, May 15; Rev. Father Schirra At Head

Ten Fast Teams In Circuit, West Pittsburgh Defending Champs

The New Castle City Baseball League will start its 1938 campaign on Sunday, May 15, with five games on the opening schedule. This is the second year for the popular baseball league. Rev. Father Michael P. Schirra is the president of the league and Michael Babovsky is the secretary and treasurer.

The City Baseball League will get an official opening Saturday afternoon (weather permitting) at the Rosina field, when Rev. Father Michael Schirra will have charge of the ceremonies, and will have a few speeches by prominent New Castle men. The West Pittsburgh team will oppose the Union Civics Saturday as a feature of the opening day.

Expect Fast League
Under the guiding hand of Father Schirra and Babovsky, the circuit will have a prosperous season. There is considerable interest in the coming games and if the pre-season crowds are any criterion, baseball is back in New Castle to stay for many a year on a big scale.

The West Pittsburgh team will be the defending champs of the league, having survived a severe test last year and having taken the title in the league's infancy. There will be a merry race this year for the pennant and West Pittsburgh will find the going a lot tougher than last season.

The schedule as drawn up and presented today is for the first round of play that will end June 2. The second round of the schedule will be printed at a later date.

Five New Teams
The new teams in the league are: New Castle Red Sox, West Side Tigers, Slovak A. C., Union Civics, and St. Joseph's. The rest of the teams were members of the league last year.

Following is the first-round schedule in the league:

Galento-Mann Bout Is Friday

Matters Smoothed Out And Now Heavyweights Will Battle In Garden

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 12.—The Tony Galento-Nathan Mann fight was on again today after tempersments of Joe Jacobs and Mike Jacobs (no relation) had been smoothed down.

Galento who is supposed to train his 230 pound body on beer for his fights had been banned by the New York Boxing Commission for just that sort of training. Tony has his own saloon in Jersey and does most of his training behind the bar.

Yesterday Tony appeared at the boxing commission with his manager Joe Jacobs who also is manager (maybe) for Max Schmeling and was re-instated so that he could fight Mann tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden. The commission failed to reinstate Jacobs.

On Again, Off Again
"Come on home" Jacobs told Tony "the fight with Mann is off unless I am re-instated too."

Tony started to obey his manager and "go home" until Mike Jacobs the promoter came up and shouted at Joe:

"You can't wrangle my sugar around like that."

One word led to another between the Jacobs boys until finally Mike shouted "all right the fight is off."

Joe Jacobs then turned to Tony and told Tony that after all he should fight for Mike no matter what the boxing commission had done to him. Joe, Tony, who will fight anybody anytime said okay and he and Joe dashed for the elevator to catch Mike Jacobs and tell him everything was smoothed out so Mike said the fight would go on as scheduled. It looks like Joe will have to buy a ticket however to see his "boy" fight Mann.

Yankees Take League Lead

Hitting Of DiMaggio And Henrich Has Carried The Yanks Into First Place

INDIANS FALTER, TIED FOR THIRD

By ANTHONY J. PUGLIESE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 12.—The blue-geared stars of the New York Yankees have carried them to seven straight victories to the crest of the American league today for the first time this year.

With return of DiMaggio to the lineup, their new starting pitcher, Tommie Henrich, Lou Gehrig, Bill Dickey, and all started to pound the ball. The pitchers pecked up and found winning easier for the world champions had started to climb.

Yanks Take Lead
Warned that the Cleveland Indians were the team to beat, the Yankees aimed their seige guns at the Tribe and came home with a 4 to 1 victory. Coupled with Washington's loss, the Yanks took over first place.

Spud Chandler held the Indians to nine scattered runs, while Tommie Henrich and Red Rolfe contributed some runs off Mel Harder, who gave up 10 safes.

Manager Oscar Vitt has his ace, Bob Feller to lead against the Yankees today. By losing to the Yankees, the Indians dropped into a third place behind the victorious Boston Red Sox.

Tigers Stop Streak
In Washington, the Senators saw their seven-game winning streak and the league leadership go all at once when the Detroit Tigers punched five hits and a walk in the second to win out 4 to 1.

Vernon Kennedy gave up only seven hits to the Washington Senators to give Detroit the game 4 to 1.

The airtight pitching of Lefty Grove in the playoffs enabled him to lead the Red Sox to a 4 to 2 decision over the Chicago White Sox, thus lifting his club to a third place tie with the Indians.

Browns Win One
Aided by a triple play and five Philadelphia errors, the St. Louis Browns snapped an eight game losing streak by beating the Athletics, 9 to 5. Bill Werber homered for the A's. In the triple play, Roy Hughes took Wally Moses liner with the bases loaded, threw to Kress, doubling Easterling off second.

Kress then threw to McQuinn, catching Johnson off first. The New York Giants continued to spread the National League by scoring two runs in the ninth to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5 to 3. The victory means if their lead to five and a half games, as the Chicago Cubs were blanked 7 to 0 by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Mellon Wins Sixth
Cliff Mellon became the leading hurler in both leagues with six straight victories as he limited the Cards to 10 hits. The Giants sewed up the game in the ninth with two runs on singles by Ott, Leiber and Danning. Leslie's grounder and Nize's error.

Van Mungo won his first game in five starts for Brooklyn by whitewashing the Cubs with seven hits. Tex Carleton, Kimball and Logan gave up 16 to the Dodgers with Carleton being charged with the defeat.

The Bees were rained out in Cincinnati and the Phillies and Pirates were idle due to cold weather in Pittsburgh.

Pompoon, making first start since finishing third in Santa Anita handicap established a new record for the mile and sixteenth to win the $20,000 Dixie handicap at Pimlico.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Billy Conn, a Pittsburgher, having won from Eric Seely, German light-heavyweight at Pittsburgh on Monday, the fans will want their way tonight to Duquesne Garden, Pittsburgh, to see today's fight, former middleweight king, and Al Quall meet in a bout scheduled for 10 rounds.

Junata defeated Dickinson in track 83.4 to 42.2 at Huntington. Grove City lost a dual meet 73 to 63 to Allegheny at Grove City. One took first place in the 220-yard dash and won for the visitors. Penn State golfers beat Cornell 7 to 1 but lost in tennis. State won one singles and one doubles match at Ithaca. At Washington, Bertha won a track and field meet from Washington & Jefferson, 79 to 52. Duquesne deadlocked Geneva at Beaver Falls, in golf, 3 and 3.

Many fans here remember Frankie Rio, the clever featherweight who fought many stirring battles at the July Bowl. At present Rio is drilling Al Wardle, Ohio middleweight who scored a one-round technical knockout over Jackie McCarron at Youngstown Monday night. Rio shows few of the marks of the many battles in which he engaged. He is a shrewd chap, very gentlemanly and has a pleasant personality. It was reported to the writer that a very influential Ohioan is interested in Wardle. While scrolling around the Raven-Wood auditorium we met the announcer, Kelen. It has been only recently that he has performed such duties for promoter Al Zim. Kelen's folks formerly resided in New Castle. Jack Trammie, the colored heavyweight, was one of the fighters who showed interest in Jack LaRue who was seconded by Jimmie Steiner. Tommy Jones and Jack Young. All three have engaged in battles. Steiner in the Merchant Marines, while both Jones and Young were highweights who fought for Jimmie Dime. Tony Zill, brother to the promoter, was the referee for the LaRue-Corcoran fight, while Jimmy Jones, former referee for the late Mickie Stambaugh, refereed the Ray Gray-Al Bondie fight which Gray won. Jimmie Dwyer, Tommy Leach, Lou Brady, Bill Lynch and others from this city were among the audience. Joe Alexander, former manager of Emmett Rocco, and Frank Nugent were in the audience.

Reports from Ellwood City state that Emmett Rocco, former heavyweight boxer, is now teaching a youngster named Matthews who hails from Wampum. The boys who witnessed Emmett's prize fight at Zeilenople say he has quite a sock and it is the punch that brings the money in the fight game.

Not long ago the B. P. O. E. Lodge 69, promoted a smoker. Several boys were staged. The Elks who turned out to see the smoker appreciated it to such an extent that plans are afoot, according to reports, whereby another amateur boxing show will be staged.

Seven tough victories placed the New York Yankees in first place in the American League.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The stock market turned downward today after a firm opening. Scattered profit-taking as a result of the recent steady advance checked the advance and brought losses in most active sectors. Price changes were generally small and trading quiet.

Prices were subject to considerable fluctuations. North American closed over a point. Changes in the others were not unusual.

Steel showed a firm trend in the early dealings and then turned irregular. U. S. Steel and Republic gave some ground while Bethlehem and Crucible were steady.

Chrysler gave up a fractional gain and showed a small loss as did General Motors. R-K-O was under pressure in the afternoon in anticipation of the filing of the new reorganization plan.

Declines were the rule in the rails with the exception of Union Pacific. Pennsylvania, Farm implements and building shares gave small losses pointing to a point.

Chemicals were reactionary, movements in the tobacco and confectionery. Philip Morris some of the gains of the last days while American Tobacco higher. Americans were mostly retrading shares back to trend with Woolworth up a point. American Telephone under a point in a lower market. Communications. Tracfone declined to be supported by the ELLWOOD CITY, May 12.—The North Sewickley Presbyterian church was the scene of a merry gathering on Wednesday evening when mothers and daughters of the congregation assembled for a banquet in keeping with the season.

At 6 o'clock, the group, numbering 87, were seated at long tables and served a most appetizing dinner. Pretty arrangements of spring flowers were effectively used in the decorations of the tables. Misses Virginia Huber, Doris Clarke and Carolina Tucker were in charge of the dinner.

After a period of group singing, greetings were extended to the mothers by Miss Doris Clarke. The toast to the mothers was given by Miss Virginia Huber and Mrs. R. E. Bell responded to the daughters after which a reading was given by Jean Clarke.

Miss J. R. Routledge, of North Sewickley, was the guest speaker and brought a most interesting and effective address on the appropriate theme of "Mothers."

Two tables of 500 provided the evening's diversion with the awards going to Mrs. Bain and Mrs. Scott.

For the next meeting on Wednesday evening, June 22, a picnic supper was planned to be held at Ewing Park.

A six o'clock dinner was a feature of the evening served by the hostess and a committee composed of Mrs. Eugene Aubachon, Mrs. R. T. Bair and Mrs. Clarence Scott. Flowers were used in decorative effects about the home.

Rev. Milton A. May Conducts Services From Home, In Crescent Avenue

ELLWOOD CITY, May 12.—A very large assemblage of bereaved relatives and friends gathered on Wednesday afternoon to pay their final tribute of respect to J. C. "Comie" Wardman by attending the last rites held from the late home in Crescent avenue at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Wardman's death occurred Sunday evening at his home after an illness of several months.

Rev. Milton A. May, pastor of the Immanuel Reformed church, officiated at the services. Preceding the services, Kenneth Bunker, son of George Nicklas and Norman Park, sang two lovely, appropriate selections, "In The Garden" and "Safe In The Arms of Jesus." Many of those attending the services were seated in the Immanuel Reformed church where they heard the services by means of which he was held.

The home was filled with beautiful floral offerings testifying to the esteem and affection of which he was held. Relatives and friends attended the services from Beaver Falls, McKees Rocks, Youngstown, Wampum, Tarentum, New Castle and Coaltown, and other nearby towns.

Serving as pallbearers were: George Funkhouser, Frank Cain, Carl Johns, William Porter, Fred McConahy and Frank Levery. Interment was made in Locust Grove cemetery.

Constitution? You Should Get at the Cause!

Lots of people think they can't be "regular" without frequent trips to the medicine chest. "I just dose up and get it over," they tell you. But doctors know they don't "get it over" at all—until they get at the cause of the trouble! Chances are it's simple to find the cause if you eat only what most people do—meat, bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If that fits you, your ticket is a crunchy breakfast cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran. It contains the "bulk" you need, plus the great intestinal tonic, Vitamin B.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and just watch the old world grow brighter! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
